THE MAC SERVICES GROUP TO SHOWCASE UNIQUE BUSINESS MODEL AIMEX 2007

At the forefront of innovation in Mining Services

Recently ASX listed Australian mining services company, The MAC Services Group Limited, plan to showcase their latest village lifestyle concept at the 2007 AIMEX event, to be held at Sydney Olympic Park 4-7 September. The showcase includes an innovative approach to the design, construction and servicing of accommodation villages for the resources industry operating in remote areas.

As specialists in the provision of large scale mining accommodation and services, The MAC's '360 degree' business model, offers a complete service from the purchase of land and regulatory approvals to the design, construction and management of villages, including ancillary services such as cleaning, catering, training, travel and entertainment.

The MAC's showcase will include a sneak peek at some of their latest custom designed en-suited rooms, the proposed self contained deluxe room, and an architectural model of the latest MAC village that is currently under construction, which includes a pool, gym, and bar.

Additional information will also be available on the benefits of our integrated, holistic 360 degree service, designed to deliver the quality and safety standards required to assist mining clients retain skilled employees in a scarce and mobile workforce.

To catch a glimpse of the future in mining accommodation, visit The MAC at stand 6912 or see our display in the main exhibition area.
